Reported Date of Loss	August 10, 2026
Loss Type	Water damage - plumbing

Initial Loss Description

The insured reported returning home after being away for the weekend and discovering water in the kitchen. He stated that a pipe beneath the kitchen sink appeared to have suddenly failed. Water was observed on the kitchen floor and near the lower cabinets. The insured reported visible damage to cabinetry, flooring, and the lower portion of adjacent drywall.

Initial Claim Information

The insured estimated the total damage at approximately $24,500 based on early contractor discussions. No determination regarding cause, duration of leakage, coverage, or claim value had been made at the time of first notice.

Reported Immediate Actions

The insured stated that the water supply beneath the sink was shut off after the damage was discovered. A restoration company was contacted to discuss drying and mitigation. Supporting photographs, contractor records, and detailed moisture readings were not included with the initial notice.
